

Verywell.com

Verywell is a health website that contracts with writers who are experts in health fields. Compensation is based on page views, but a starting base pay is offered. Nurses and physicians are often hired.

Aetna

Nurses and physicians are among the medical professions who work from home at this insurance company. Some jobs are specifically meant to be telecommuting, but other telework opportunities will be considered after working on-site for some time. Choose "yes" in the "Potential Telework Position" drop-down menu. See more insurance company jobs from home.

American International Group (AIG)

After a specific amount of time working on-site, this company allows some nursing positions, such as case managers and medical reviewers, to be telecommuted. Try the keywords "telecommuting" or "work from home" in the jobs database.

ARO

While most of the home-based jobs at this BPO are for customer service, sales, and B2B telemarketing agents, it also has virtual positions for LPNs and RNs doing telehealth call center work as well as jobs for insurance auditors.

Carenet

Based in San Antonio, this medical BPO provides support to insurance companies and health care systems. Virtual call center agents who are registered nurses (RN) answer questions or perform telephone triage.

Cigna

Insurance company Cigna's division Intracorp hires RNs to work at home as disability and workers' comp case managers. Use "work from home" as keywords to search Cigna's job openings. Hiring is done from a NY location.

Conifer Health Solutions

Healthcare services firm hires work-from-home employees in nursing and coding as well as sales. Use "telecommuting" or "remote" as a keyword.

Covance

Covance has preclinical and clinical research operations in more than 25 countries and hires clinical research associates to work at home (with at least 65% travel) in specific locations in the U.S., Canada, and Europe. Use keyword "home-based" in its job database.

The Doctors Company

This medical malpractice insurance company, based in California, hires nurses as risk managers and telecommuting may be allowed.

Fonemed

This company hires registered nurses from the United States and Canada to work from home to provide telephone triage and health advice to callers from across North America. It also hires on-site customer service reps, based in Newfoundland, Canada, who need a minimum of a high school diploma.

The Hartford

In addition to hiring RNs for remote telephone jobs as case managers, this insurance company hires others in non-medical WAH jobs, such as claims representatives. Check off the option for remote jobs in the company's job listings.

Healthfirst

This New York-based health insurance company hires nurses as case managers to work from home.

Health Net

Health Net, a health insurance company operating in 27 states, hires nurses as case managers, care coordinators, and care managers with the option to telecommute. Use "telecommuting" as a search keyword in the company's job database.

Humana

Some of its work-at-home positions have geographic requirements, and most are for registered nurses. Many of its RN positions are for field healthcare and involve visiting patients at home. It also sometimes has opportunities for medical coders, chart auditors, licensed insurance reps, accountants, physicians, writers, and salespeople. Check off "Virtual/Work at Home" in the company's jobs database.

Conifer Health Solutions

Based in Annapolis, MD, medical management services company sometimes hires telecommuting nurses, licensed in various states for case management and other nursing jobs.

Inland Empire Health Plan

Based in San Bernardino, CA, this health insurance company employs telecommuting RNs in quality management or case management positions.

McKesson

McKesson, the nation's largest health care services company, specializes in pharmaceutical distribution and health care IT systems and software.

Nemours

This pediatric health system with locations in Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Washington, DC, and Florida hires work from home telephone triage nurses.

Nurse Telephone Triage

This Company hires RNs with five years of nursing experience (preferably in pediatrics), telephone triage experience and knowledge of and experience in using Barton Schmitt protocols.

Paradigm Health Services

This company hires licensed nursing professionals in Tennessee, Mississippi, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, and Georgia for full and part-time positions, and some telehealth positions available.

Pathway Medical Staffing

This medical recruiting firm in the New York City metro area specializes in non-clinical nursing positions. Search using the keyword "telecommute."

PPD

This global contract research organization (CRO) provides drug discovery, development, and life-cycle management services with in the health care industry. It hires medical writers and clinical research associates (CRA)for work-at-home positions.

PointClickCare

This cloud-based medical documentation company has customer support positions for people with nursing degrees.

Professional Dynamics

This California-based company provides service in the worker's compensation industry and to first-party medical and employee benefits sectors. Some nurse case manager and physician peer review positions are telecommuting.

Remote Medical International

The "remote" in the name of Seattle-area company refers to faraway places not working at home. However, the company does have a telemedicine department and some other telecommuting jobs.

CitraHealth

Hires registered nurses to practice telephone triage or computer-assisted nursing through inbound and outbound telephone calls with patients whose physicians, hospitals, insurers, or employers are CitraHealth clients.

Triage 4 Pediatrics

Based in Plano, TX, this company hires RNs in the DFW area to work at home in after-hours telephone triage. Requirements include 3–5 years in pediatrics, licensure in Texas, carrying malpractice insurance and drug test. Weekends and evenings are required, but part- and full-time schedules are available.

UnitedHealth Group

More than 20% of this large health insurance company's employees take advantage of its telecommuting opportunities. UnitedHealth Group hires registered nurses for telecommuting positions as well as others with experience in the insurance industry.

vRad, Inc.

This company is a provider of teleradiology services and solutions. vRad hires radiologists to work from home, and requirements include ABR or ABOR certification, at least one state license, eligibility for hospital credentialing, and high-speed internet access. Full medical liability insurance is provided.

Anthem

Anthem, one of the nation's largest healthcare companies, allows some positions, in nursing and in other fields, to be telecommuted after a certain amount of time in the office.